

PURELY PERSONAL

The Movements of Many People, Newberrians, and Those Who Visit Newberry.

Miss Mildred Purcell is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Basch, in Savannah.

Mr. George Cheros, of Clinton, was in the city on Wednesday looking all right.

Mr. R. D. Wicker, of Newberry, was here yesterday.—Ninety Six cor. Greenwood Journal.

Julian White wheeled from Spartanburg Saturday afternoon and on through to Newberry at night to spend Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. White.

Rev. John T. Young went to Newberry county today to visit several A. R. P. churches in the interest of the local church. He will go to Long Cane the latter part of the week.—Greenwood Journal.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baker will regret to know that they will not make their home in Greenwood after June. Mr. Baker has made arrangements to move to Newberry, where he will engage in farming and cattle-raising. He will sell his property here.—Greenwood Journal.

Mr. T. E. Wicker is still laid up with his foot, which was severely hurt by the overturning of his motor cycle at a rough place in the road. It gave him a very bad foot and came near being more serious. Mr. J. M. K. Bushardt is his good substitute in the handling of the route three mail.

VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

King and O'Connor in vaudeville now at the opera house.

The old vets will be in good hands again on Tuesday.

The babies will take the day in Newberry this Saturday.

The banks of Newberry will be closed on Tuesday, the 11th, honoring Memorial day celebration.

Big things the balance of this week and part of next, before court begins Wednesday.

That was a glass-smashing hail storm on Tuesday morning. Many citizens here never saw its like before.

"Old Dutch" is the name of the feature play by the World Film company at the opera house next Tuesday. Five reels five and ten cents.

Automobiles recorded in the clerk's office have reached the number of 300 for Newberry, with several new ones not recorded.

According to the Capetown Times, in the Transvaal the voortrekkers have a little resting place by the name of Waachteenbetjebeideboschfontein.

Speaking of that fine entertainment under the auspices of the Calendar society, the singing of that little girl was one of the best of the "Opportunities of Olive."

Those people of Newberry who had heard of, but had never seen, hailstone the size of guinea eggs, made up for lost time in seeing them on Tuesday morning.

The entries to the better babies contest are absolutely free. No babies suffering with whooping cough or any other contagious or infectious disease will be admitted.

The Dutch weather prophet says there will be plenty of rain in May. And very often he hits it.—Greenwood Journal. He hits it often enough to be considered a good prophet, which he is.

Probate Judge Schumpert, on April 30, issued a license for the marriage of Mr. A. B. Cromer, of Newberry county, and Miss Myrtle Cave, of Spartanburg county, an account of which appears elsewhere in this paper.

The senior class of Newberry college enjoyed a reception in their honor at Summerland college on Tuesday night. The 25 members of the class made the trip by auto, returning home at 3 a. m.

Squire J. Will Wicker, of Southern Pines, N. C., and Judge C. C. Schumpert, of Newberry, together have married over 300 couples. Squire Wicker has been in office thirty years and of course had the start on Judge Schumpert.

Excepting the size of some of the little participants, everything at the opera house on last Monday night was on a large scale. The audience crowded the house, the "troupe" was large and the entire entertainment was a big affair.

Since last Memorial day the James D. Nance camp has lost the following from the roll of Confederate veterans: W. L. Waters, John Philip Kinard, George Lester, I. W. Griffin, Capt. J. W. Gary, Pressley Williams, J. O. Turnipseed, Wm. Koon, J. Adam Counts, J. H. P. Cromer, Perry Halfacre.

Don't get things mixed. Friday evening the May celebration at the Boundary Street school, followed on Saturday from 10 to 3 with the better babies at the High school, and the exercises of the seventh grade pupils of the county in the morning at 11 o'clock at the opera house.

R. C. Williams & Son, Inc., of Columbia, has been commissioned, with a capital of $25,000. The petitioners are Reginald C. Williams, Zed L. Williams and Reginald C. Williams, Jr.—Columbia news item, which the Newberry friends of these former Newberrians are glad to know.

It simply goes without saying that the May fete and pageant at Boundary Street school on this, Friday, night will be magnificent. This statement will not be doubted by any one of the large crowd at the opera house on last Monday night who saw what Newberry children and young people are capable of accomplishing.

As assistant manager of the Newberry Business school, Prof. John Henry Sligh has accepted the position offered him by Mrs. Ray. Newberry is Prof. Sligh's old home place. He has been gaining valuable experience in the branches which he will teach here, having recently left Oklahoma, where he was connected with Droughan's Business college in that territory, since he taught in the college at Nashville. His work in the fine Droughan system of school well qualifies him for his duties in Newberry.

AT WILLOWBROOK PARK.

Entertainment at Opening For Benefit of Band—Vote For Most Popular Young Lady.

At the opening of the Willowbrook park on Saturday night the Newberry Concert band will not only dispense excellent music, but will have on sale ice cream and cake and other things and will conduct a voting contest for the most popular young lady, giving 25 votes with each purchase of five cents. It costs you nothing extra to vote, you just buy the cake and the cream and the other things and cast your ballots. There are so many popular and pretty girls who go to Willowbrook that the voting should be fast and lively. The money is to be raised to help the band purchase new uniforms, so you will be helping a good cause with your votes.

Rev. Edw. Fulendwiler has accepted the invitation to deliver the address at the closing exercises of the Little Mountain school Tuesday evening, May 18th.

A FIERCE HAIL STORM.

The County Storm Swept on Tuesday. Heavy Hail and Strong Wind. Much Damage Done.

The worst rain and hail storm within the recollection of the oldest citizen visited Newberry about 11 o'clock on Tuesday. It came up without much warning and was over in about a half hour. The hail was heavy and fierce while it lasted. The wind was strong, with a good deal of damage in the way of broken glass, which would not have resulted if there had been no wind. The hail stones were in many cases as large as guinea eggs and some of them remained on the ground for quite a while.

In many places in the county the hail was as heavy as in Newberry, and in some the wind more severe. No very great or serious damage is reported from any section, though in some places the farmers are replanting cotton.

The greatest damage in Newberry was in the breaking of window panes. A great many in the stores along Main street and in the Crowell hotel building were broken out.

At the Newberry Cotton mill some 1,200 glass were broken from the windows of the mill and some damage was done to the machinery, or rather the work that was in the machines, by the glass falling on it and cutting the threads. In the homes of the village a good many glass were also broken.

At the Mollohon bill a great number of glass were broken out, but at Oakland not a glass was broken.

In the county in some places the hail and wind was more severe than in town. Around Belfast, in the western section, the wind did some damage in the blowing down of trees and unroofing buildings. A large oak was thrown across the store building on Mr. T. J. Davenport's place and crushed the building. Several houses on Mr. Robert Wallace's place were partly unroofed and a great many trees blown down.

Around Jolly Street and Little Mountain the storm was severe, but no serious damage done.

About Mr. L. W. Floyd's place, on the Belfast road, there was very little rain, but in most sections there was a good rain.

It was the heaviest hail this writer ever remembers to have seen. The cotton was young and in many places just coming up, and it is not thought much damage was done to it. The fruit in some places suffered considerable damage.

Among the worst sufferers in the storm Tuesday was Mr. Fair Buford, whose cotton house was struck by lightning and destroyed, two tons of nitrate of soda being burned, five tons of guano damaged, besides $40 worth of peas lost in the flames. A fine colt was also struck by the lightning and seriously injured.

Willowbrook Park to Open.

Willowbrook park will open for the season Saturday evening, May 8. All the city folks are welcome to come over at any time. There will be music by the Newberry Concert band and songs by the children and young ladies.

Church of the Redeemer.

(Rev. Edward Fulendwiler Pastor.) Nothing preventing, the following will be the program of divine services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer next Sunday:

11:15 A. M.—The regular morning service. The pastor will preach a special practical sermon on the subject "The Curse of Meroz." This incident, taken from the Book of Judges, is one of the most remarkable and interesting in the Old Testament. The story is old, and yet exceedingly new. God is surely fighting His battles in the world today through men and women. Many, like Reuben, and Dan, and the inhabitants of Meroz, are withholding themselves. What will be the result? Many practical and encouraging lessons will be presented in the sermon.

8:30 P. M.—The evening service. Sermon by the pastor, on the subject, "The Cheering Cross." Text, John 12:32, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." There will be good music at both services.

The public is cordially invited to these services.

Dr. Whittemore will be at the jewelry store of P. C. Jeans on the 14th and 15th, and thereafter will return on the third Friday of each month. Dr. Whittemore comes from the O. L. Walter Optical company of Columbia and will demonstrate his work at the place and time stated.

Mrs. J. A. Meldau spent Thursday in Columbia with her cousins, Mrs. J. G. Anderson and Mrs. Wm. McCaw.

It makes some men almost as mad to have people tell lies about them as it does if they tell the truth.

BETTER BABIES CONTEST.

And High School Graduates Hold the Boards on Saturday—The Program.

The following is the program for Saturday, May 8th:

10 A. M.

High School—Baby show.

11 A. M.

Opera House—County commencement day exercises.

Invocation.

Introductory remarks, Geo. D. Brown, county superintendent of education.

Music.

Address, Dr. J. Henry Harms, president of Newberry college.

Music.

Awarding of certificates by principals and superintendents of high schools of county.

2:30 P. M.

High School Building—Medal contest. Seventh grade children and below write theme on subject relating to care of the teeth.

Pictures of seventh grade children, contestants for medal and babies.

To all of the exercises the public is cordially invited.

A FINEST KIND OF TREAT.

The Calendar Society Put on Good Vaudeville Last Monday.

Deserving of the truest words of praise are the ladies who taught the little children and some of the little older ones to carry through so perfectly and beautifully the program at the opera house on last Monday night. The Calendar society of Central Methodist church demonstrated its ability to produce good vaudeville. To get so many little children in trim for good singing and marching must require hard work, patience and much brightness.

The children showed their splendid training, and their costumes were pretty and becoming. To the step of the music by Miss Pearl West, pianist, a bevy of lovely young girls gave the finest May pole dance we have ever seen, and the other pretty children, in their Chinese costumes and all, did themselves and their teachers credit and delightfully entertained a very large audience.

One of the most enjoyable parts of the entertainment was the singing of "Tipperary" by little Miss Olive Burns, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. J. Burns. This little girl charmed and captivated the big crowd, winning hearty applause and golden opinion for her successful performance; as did also the long row of other little tots who sang and acted in concert. And it was taken for granted and to be expected that the little older couples of young people who stepped and sang, and sang and stepped again to the "applause of the multitude," would "do their best and act well their part." They did not disappoint any one.

A chief feature of the evening's pleasure was the vocal music by four of Mr. Robert E. Allen's pupils, namely, Miss Carolyn Caldwell, soprano; Miss Sara Williamson, alto; W. G. Houseal, Jr., tenor, and Perry Coke Smith, bass. Mr. Allen touched the keys of the piano and the quartet touched a responsive chord in the heart of the public there gathered together, as was evidenced by the hearty encore the singers received, and to which they suitably responded. Like all who took part in the entertainment Mr. Allen's apt pupils showed correct training and it is always a treat to listen to the music of their blended voices where harmony reigns undisturbed.

Altogether the affair was meritorious and each one deserved the 100 mark, from the tiniest tot who hung her little head in bashful timidity to the larger of the beautiful girls who bowed their lovely heads in winning ways.

Attention Daughters!

All members of both chapters are expected at the hall for the veterans' dinner, McCaughin block, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, to make necessary preparations for the dinner. Committee badges will be distributed at that time.

Those who have promised table cloths are requested to send same to Mrs. J. Y. McFall's residence by Saturday, May 8th.

All members are asked to bring flowers to the dining hall on Monday afternoon.

Pupils of the city schools will decorate the monument at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Interesting Sunday School Contest.

A letter received from Mr. C. K. Davis, of this city, now at school in Rochester, N. Y., tells of an interesting Sunday school contest just closed between a class of the First Baptist church, Rochester, and class of the First Baptist church, of Syracuse, N. Y. The attendance of the Rochester class was increased from 500 to 900 men in the contest, but they lost the cup to Syracuse by 100 average attendance.
